PNEUMOCOCCAL DISEASE

Pneumococcal disease is caused by bacteria that can result in serious complications such as meningitis, pneumonia and blood infections.

CHILDREN UNDER TWO YEARS OF AGE ARE AMONG THOSE AT HIGHEST RISK.

Pneumococcal vaccination is part of routine childhood immunizations.

Talk to your family doctor, pediatrician, nurse or local public health office about immunizing your child against pneumococcal disease.

Immunize Immunisation Canada
immunize.ca

Adapted from CDC resource.