

Do you know about respiratory syncytial virus (RSV)?

RSV is a contagious respiratory virus.

People in the following groups tend to experience severe RSV infection more than others:

- adults 65 years of age and older
- people who are immunocompromised (who have a weakened immune system)
- infants younger than six months old

